Many care-giving professionals can see the benefits of, and the natural way that, children and young people use visual arts to express themselves. However many adults feel unsure how to use art materials, art directives or how to communicate about the art work created by children and young people. This skill bite is the opportunity to explore a wide variety of art materials and directives / themes in a supported learning environment with a trained Art Therapist. Participants will gain a basic understanding of Art Therapy and explore ways to bring creative art making into the lives of children and young people in their care. No artistic skills required, and all art materials will be provided.

Skill Bite Objectives:

- To develop a list of creative art activities that can be completed with children / young people in the home / office
- To experience a variety of creative art activities
- To develop an understanding of art therapy principles
- To build confidence in using creative art activities with children / young people
- To be familiar with a variety of art materials and create a basic "art pack" for use in the home or office

Suitable Audience:

- Carers & workers from foster, permanent, residential, adoptive & kinship care
- Family service workers
